Guaranty Trust Bank (Ghana) Limited (GTBank) announces the opening of its newly commissioned ultra-modern branch in Osu. The serene ambience of the banking premises offers freshness to the Oxford Street landscape and is a hallmark of the GTBank brand. This reflects the care taken to provide the utmost in customer service.

With the opening of the Osu branch, GTBank seeks to announce its presence in the Retail, Consumer Banking and Tourism sectors, as well as provide a service hub for our numerous customers and non-customers alike, in our quest to provide 'Orange Convenience' i.e. Banking Anywhere (worldwide), Anytime (24/7).

In addition to the provision of our traditional banking services, the branch will provide a VISA enabled ATM, offer Western Union and our soon to be launched Guaranty Trust Money Transfer (GTMT) services, which will be an avenue for traders and travelers across the sub-region to access their funds instantly. The branch, as in all GTBank locations, also features internet browsing facilities for customers to conclude transactions and make enquiries on the web.

The opening of the branch according to Patrick Ofose, Group Head, Retail and Consumer Banking underscores GTBank's commitment to invest in Ghana. The branch further highlights the bank's dedication to convenience, quality services and accessibility to our people, products and services, in order to provide a delightful banking experience.

We believe our customers and non-customers alike will benefit from the flexibility and accessibility of the branch and enjoy our products and services.

In the next one week the Bank would be opening another location in the hub of the business district of Kumasi. The ambience like this new one in Osu, would also be a delight to behold by both customers and the general public respectively.

The Bank also has as part of its accolades, the honour of being the first African bank to be listed on the London Stock Exchange.
